

T. Colleen Farrell

I am a life-long Nova Scotian, mother of two, grammy to one. I coordinated social activities as a member of Elder Learners before joining SCANS in or about 2019. I have travelled to seven continents, and am passionate about the New York Times Crossword Puzzles, Fibre Arts and the CBC.

I was employed by the Meteorological Service of Canada in Halifax, Bedford and Dartmouth for 35 years.

I was educated at Saint Francis Xavier University B.Sc. Majors in Physics and Mathematics, Diploma in Engineering) and University of New Brunswick (M.Sc chemical Engineering). I have also earned certificates in Leadership Development from Dalhousie University and Business communications from Mount Saint Vincent University.