

Margie Macdonald

I grew up in Ottawa and attended the university in Toronto and Winnipeg. My work life began in the field of international development working overseas in Papua New Guinea, in south Sudan and in Canada with various non-profit groups.

In the 1980's my work focus turned to community development initially with Health Canada and the Public Health Agency of Canada and then political organizing.

Post retirement activities include English language tutoring, politics and refugee sponsorship. I have been a member of SCANS for about 5 years and am currently a member of the Public Presentations Committee.
