

SENIORS'
COLLEGE
ASSOCIATION
OF NOVA SCOTIA

SCANS is a registered non-profit organization dedicated to providing non-credit academic courses to seniors (age 50+) in Nova Scotia

CONTACTS:
theSCANS.org
info@theSCANS.ca

Halifax office
902-444-7588

SENIORS' COLLEGE ASSOCIATION OF NOVA SCOTIA

PUBLIC LECTURE

November 23, 2017 (Thursday)

1:30 – 3:30 pm (doors open at 1:00 pm)

Captain William Spry Community Centre, 16 Sussex St., Halifax

Intergenerational fisheries access and the future of fish as food

In Canada, access to marine resources and ocean spaces is a significant issue for many coastal and Indigenous communities due to intensifying activity and competition in the marine environment. The general trend of loss of access has implications for these communities, and for Canadian society.

MEGAN BAILEY is a Canada Research Chair in Integrated Ocean and Coastal Governance at Dalhousie's Marine Affairs Program. Her work recognizes the need for collaboration among multiple groups including governments, NGO's and industry in the sustainable management of the global seafood supply chain. She most recently helped establish an interdisciplinary program to create a sustainable transboundary tuna fishery in the Western and Central Pacific. She also works in the area of food security and fisheries and market-based conservation.

Megan has authored numerous articles and book chapters and this year published her first edited book "Food Secure Futures: Multidisciplinary Solutions". She currently serves on the Scientific and Technical Advisory Committee for the International Pole and Line Foundation, on the Board of Directors for the Ecology Action Centre, and on the Communications Committee for the Fishermen and Scientists Research Society.

NOTE: Seating is limited to 100 people – on a first-come, first-admitted basis. Lectures are open to all. Registration is not required. Goodwill donations are gratefully accepted. Suggested donation: $5. Donation boxes will be available. Proceeds will be used to support future SCANS activities. Please avoid wearing scents if possible – some people have allergies.

CANCELLATIONS: Will be posted on the SCANS website: theSCANS.org